Forecast for Thursday 22 Jun 2023

Weather: Any early mist or fog in the valleys will clear quickly through the morning, leaving a fine day with plenty of strong sunshine. Scattered cloud will bring the chance of a shower, these perhaps heavy with a risk of thunder at times, but staying dry for most. Showers easing and remaining dry through the evening with some patchy mist forming again in some valleys.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: Greater than 95%.

Low cloud and visibility: Early mist or fog may briefly cover slopes and tops as it lifts and clears after dawn. Any cloud during the day will be above all summits. Good to very good visibility, although briefly moderate in any heavy showers, and poor in any early mist or fog.

Meteorologist's View

With high or very high UV levels due to the strong sunshine, it is important to be prepared by wearing appropriate clothing and staying hydrated. Heavy showers may briefly cause poor visibility and localised flooding of some paths, so be prepared with alternative routes.
